Escape to fruity heaven

We wouldn't be totally devoted to all things fruity beauty if we didn't give you a reason to get pampered! Gerard's are renowned for their unique treatments that take ancient traditions of the east and blend them with modern techniques of the west. This fruity delight is no exception. Lulur is derived from an ancient oriental ritual used in Bali to prepare women for their weddings. Using exotic fruits extracts such as orange, lemon, grapefruit and mango it's a delight for your mind and body. Relax as your body is exfoliated with ancient massage movements, your skin is treated using aromatic spices and wrapped, whilst finally being cleansed using 100% natural yoghurt mixed with fruit extracts - bliss!
